Income Overview

During the 2020 financial year, the income of the International Kempo Federation was significantly affected by the global COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting reduction in international sporting activities.

Income was generated exclusively from membership and affiliation fees paid by national member federations, as well as limited competition-related fees associated with a reduced number of international events.

Membership and affiliation fees continued to represent the primary source of income for the Federation, providing a degree of financial stability despite the constrained operational environment.

The Federation did not receive public subsidies, sponsorship income, or government funding during the reporting period. All income was generated in accordance with the Federation's Statutes and applicable internal regulations.

Expenditure Overview

Expenditure incurred during the 2020 financial year was primarily limited to essential governance, administrative, and operational functions necessary to ensure the continuity of the International Kempo Federation.

Due to the significantly reduced international competition calendar, sporting-related expenditure was limited and focused on indispensable coordination and regulatory activities.

Governance and administrative expenditure covered statutory functions, international coordination, communication activities, and basic administrative operations carried out in accordance with the Federation's Statutes and internal regulations.

The International Kempo Federation also continued to meet its essential international affiliation and membership obligations, including payments to relevant international sport and sport-related organizations, where applicable.

All expenditure during the reporting period was incurred in line with the Federation's statutory objectives and principles of prudent and responsible financial management.

Financial Position and Liquidity

At the end of the 2020 financial year, the International Kempo Federation maintained sufficient liquidity to meet its essential operational obligations, despite the exceptional circumstances caused by the global COVID-19 pandemic.

Financial resources were managed conservatively, with priority given to ensuring institutional continuity and compliance with the Federation's statutory objectives.

Available funds were used exclusively to support essential operations and governance functions. No financial resources were allocated to speculative or non-statutory purposes.

Anti-Doping Financial Independence

Anti-doping activities within the framework of International Kempo competitions were operationally delegated to competition organizers, in accordance with the Federation's regulations and applicable international anti-doping rules.

The International Kempo Federation did not directly manage anti-doping testing programs and did not exercise financial control over testing operations carried out by competition organizers.

No financial arrangements existed during the reporting period that could compromise the independence, objectivity, or integrity of anti-doping activities. The Federation's role remained limited to regulatory oversight and coordination within its statutory framework.
